

A TRIBUTE TO GEO. W. MOYERS

A True Patriot and a Devoted Friend of Florida.

HE WENT WHERE DUTY CALLED

A Loyal Friend to Kirby Smith Chapter, Which Pays a High Compliment to His Memory—Sympathetic Resolutions on His Death.

A special meeting of Kirby Smith Chapter, U. D. O., having met at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Cone to take official notice of the death of Mr. Geo. W. Moyers, a brave and loyal Confederate Veteran, a warm, devoted friend and co-worker with this Chapter, which sad event occurred in Jacksonville, Florida, on the morning of October 6th, 1905, with unfeigned regret we lovingly tender in sadness of spirit, the following tribute to his memory:

One by one, the brave defenders of the South are slowly but surely "Passing Over the River" to join their comrades in the shadowy beyond, in the "Bivouac of the Dead," where valor, patriotic devotion to duty, and matchless heroism are the common heritage of all true Americans, the wonder and admiration of the world, to commemorate which this order is organized and lovingly dedicated.

His untiring labors, helpful suggestions and simple devotion to this Chapter were conspicuous in life, and now he is no more, our hearts beat warmer with the truest and tenderest emotions as memory recalls his every act of kindness, his tender solicitation and grateful services to us in all our enterprises, and his fatherly and dignified bearing to this Chapter collectively and individually.

Son of the Old Dominion State, whose bosom bore to the fierceness of contending armies, drank deep of the crimson red, he gave with cheerfulness and alacrity his best services to the cause of our Sunny Southland. He was true to Southern institutions, history and traditions, yet he loved his common country.

As a citizen, blending the virtues of honorable dealing with his fellows, forbearance and charity to all, he exemplified the highest type of Christian life. Malice and envy had no place in him. Broad-minded, liberal and tolerant, his convictions were strong and fearlessly maintained. Endowed by nature with a clear and discriminating mind and judgment, which the experience of years ripened into wisdom, he seldom erred in his conclusions.

As a friend, devoted and true. A neighbor, warm hearted and hospitable; but it was in the sanctuary of his home-life his true character is shown in loving companionship, adorned by every social virtue, the gentle dignity and suavity of manner, a benediction to his family. A husband affectionate and kind, a tender and indulgent parent; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Veteran Geo. W. Moyers Kirby Smith Chapter has lost a true and tried friend; that his family's loss is great; likewise our own. Every sentiment of our being so stirred with the sincerest and tenderest sympathy for each member of the family. To Mrs. G. W. Moyers, first Vice-president of Kirby Smith Chapter at the present time, and his daughter, Mrs. Turner Brewer, both of whom are beloved members of this Chapter, we as a Chapter extend our sympathy and consolation; whose warm hand-clasp and fraternal greeting we have so often and long enjoyed. To the young men of the family, who have lost forever paternal advice, we urgently commend the life example and character of father for their emulation, as the richest heritage.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this Chapter, a blank page be inserted to his memory, and a copy of the same be forwarded to each member of the family.

Received and approved this 19th day of October, A. D. 1905.

Express Agent Is Captured.
Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 20.—Edward G. Caniffie, wanted in Pittsburg, Pa., for the robbery of $101,000 in cash from the Adams Express company was arrested here today. He is said to have made a clean breast of the matter to Pinkerton detectives and to have expressed his willingness to return without extradition papers.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS.

The Possibility Is That There May Be
Some Arrest for Perjury.

New York, Oct. 20.—The possibility of an arrest for perjury in the evidence given before the legislative insurance investigation committee increased the interest in today's session of that body.

The expectation of an arrest grew out of the action of the committee yesterday when assistant District Attorney Rand at the conclusion of the testimony of George Plunkitt, who had declared he did not sign a voucher for $901 for legal expenses to which his name was attached. The voucher had been paid by the Mutual Life Insurance company. This evidence was followed by testimony showing that other vouchers for legal expenses had been used to collect funds from the Mutual Life Insurance company for the maintenance of a house at Albany, where the Mutual Life Insurance company's agent was quartered and where members of the legislative insurance committee were entertained.

Further disclosures on this line were anticipated today. When the hearing was resumed today Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company was recalled to resume his testimony as to the connection of the Mutual Insurance company with the trust companies which were being investigated when the committee adjourned yesterday.

A list of the bonds and stocks owned by the Mutual Life Insurance company on June 30, 1905, was presented for identification and then the relation of the Mutual Life Insurance company with the United States Mortgage and Trust company was taken up.

Full of Tragic Meaning

Are these lines from J. H. Simmons of Casey, Ia. Think what might have resulted from his terrible cough if he had not taken the medicine about which he writes: "I had a fearful cough that disturbed my night's rest. I tried everything, but nothing would relieve it, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which completely cured me." Instantly relieves and permanently cures all throat and lung diseases; prevents grip and pneumonia. At all druggists; guaranteed; 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A Crash.

"Bragley's down and out financially, you say? Well, well! That's strange," remarked Danley. "Why, the last time I saw him he told me he was rapidly ascending the ladder of success, and"

"Yes," said Wiseman. "Perhaps in his haste he stepped off the top rung." —Catholic Standard and Times.

Fatal Thirteen.

Bill the Butte-Thirteen's my unlucky number. Pete the Dip-Wot makes yer link so? Bill-W whenever I see twelve men in de box and one on de bench I know I'm gon' ter take a trip over de road. —Cleveland Leader.

The Jar of Coughing
Hammer blows, steadily applied, break the hardest rock. Coughing, day after day, jars and tears the throat and lungs until the healthy tissues give way. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops the hard coughing, heals the torn membranes.

WORD ORIGINS.

Some Old Meanings That Are Now More or Less Obsolete.

"Many persons," says a college professor, "elbow their way through the world and yet cannot tell why their own elbows are so named. They forget that the syllable 'ell' was once our name for arm and then for a measure of an arm's length, a sense that is plain still in the proverb, 'Give an inch and he will take an ell.' In the light of this obsolete meaning 'elbow' is clearly arm-bow, the bend of the arm. 'Finger' is allied to 'fang,' and so means a grasper, and 'hand' has a similar sense because from the same root as 'bound,' the game grasper, and with 'apprehend.' 'Nail,' being from the same root as 'nag,' teaches that nagging is a figurative scratching with the ends of the fingers. 'Wrist' is what wrests or turns the hands and is plainer when we find that 'foot wrist' was an old name for ankle. 'Vertebrae' are also turners, the bones on which the body turns round horizontally, while haunches, literally 'bends,' analogous to 'hinges,' are what it turns upon up and down. 'Instep,' if still spelled as once it was, 'instoop,' would describe itself as the foot's stoop or bend inward to the ankle.

"Muscle," which means mouse, takes its name from its shape, and the ends which stretch it are tendons, which is Latin for stretchers. Beginners in Latin are pleased to learn that the uvula, at the root of the tongue, means a grape cluster; that the clavicle, which locks up the chest, means key; that a certain vein is called jugular, meaning pertaining to a yoke, because near the yoke of the right and left ribs. 'Nose-trill' is nose drill, for it pierces the nose as drills do rocks. 'Artery' etymologically is an air tube and so perhaps was once pronounced airtery. No blood being found in arteries after death, it was natural, since nature abhors a vacuum, to think those empty vessels to be air pipes or ducts for vital spirits which were quite distinct from that in the veins.

"Muzzle" is not a dignified word for mouth, but it has an origin and relations worth knowing. It means a biter and is cognate with 'morsel' and 'remorse.' 'Muzzle' is a biter, 'morsel' is what is bitten and 'remorse' is an after bite. Instead of transferring from Latin the phrase 'remorse of conscience' Anglo-Saxons translated it the 'again bite of inwit,' the title of an ancient poem dating from the year 1340. 'Jaws' would be a plainer word if spelled now as it was in our Bible of 1611—that is, 'chawes'—'I will put hooks in thy chawes.'

Don't be Imposed Upon.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. J. W. McCollum & Co.

"Fake" Sailors A-plenty.

"Fake sailors," said a naval officer, "work more harm to the reputation of Jack ashore than the real man-of-war's man is able to overcome by the strictest regulation of his conduct when on land. The navy is popular, and its sailors are popular, and, realizing this, there has sprung up a pan-handlers' contingent whose regular business is the impersonation of Uncle Sam's bluejackets.

"Somehow they manage to get possession of castoff naval uniforms. Sometimes, failing that, they go even to the expense of having uniforms made after the naval pattern. Dressed in these, they do a profitable business. Their ship has just sailed without them, and they want money to join her at Newport or they will be court-martialed. Some want only enough money to get to the navy yard, where they must report at once. And so on with all sorts of plausible stories. When you see a man in a navy uniform bagging, take my word for it he is a pan-handler and not a man-of-war's man." —New York Press.

Makes Homely Women Pretty.

No woman, no matter how regular her features may be, can be called pretty, if her complexion is bad. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and clears sallow blotched complexions by stimulating the liver and bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe, and is mild and pleasant to take. Remember the name Orino and refuse to accept any substitute. J. W. McCollum & Co.
